Kennedy was the one who suggested the trip.

Mrs. Obenchain has admitted receiving $55 from Burch, but said that it was in payment for loans made by her while they were both students in Evanston. She wrote to-day to her former husband. She wrote to-day to her former husband allowed her a divorce, she said, in order that she might be happy with the man she loved, asking that he come to her assistance. Obenchain, when he heard of the trouble his divorced wife was in said he would do all he could for her, although she had abandoned him for love of Kennedy.

Verses found among the effects of Mrs. Obenchain were being exardined by investigators to-day. They said Mrs. Obenchain had admitted authority for the lines. One poem began:

"We will so to the glen in the twilight. And watch the darkness come."

The chosing stanza read:
"At last it all is over, your life on earth is done:
I will go to the glen in twilight, And watch the darkness come."
